

Please do not weaken our state Do Not Call List.

I find it ironic that the federal government professes to want to give states more rights, and, yet, when big business (i.e. banking industry) rears its ugly head, the government caves in to the the boys with the big money. By gutting our state Do Not Call List, you are opening the door to every business that wants to annoy us.

We have found the past two years on the state Do Not Call List free of business pressures to be quite peaceful. That's all we ask--just some much needed peace and quiet in our own home.

Thank you.
